

Tattoo's Tackle Unveils New Saltwater Fishing Lure -- The Everlasting Eel

Tattoo's Tackle, manufacturer of wooden saltwater fishing lures releases a new jointed lure for the 2006 surfcasting season.

Portsmouth, RI (PRWEB) July 1, 2006 -- Tattoo's Tackle, manufacturer of wooden saltwater fishing lures, releases a new jointed lure for the 2006 surfcasting season.

Tattoo's Tackle begins shipments of their new Everlasting Eel to tackle shops and online stores across the Northeast. The new wooden lure features through wiring, VMC 4X treble hooks, and molded 3D eyes for a realistic presentation. With an overall length of 8 inches, and a swimming depth of 2 - 4 feet, it is an ideal replacement for the threatened American eel that is so popular with striped bass fishermen. A video featuring its snake-like swimming action is now available online.

Colors for the jointed Everlasting Eel include solid black, eel, white, and other saltwater colors for 2006.
